New features including a real-time content stream and dive certification verification upgrade the user experience for Deepblu divers. The company is giving away free COSMIQ+ Dive Computers to celebrate the launch.

TAIPEI, March 31st, 2017 – Deepblu, the fastest-growing social network for divers and ocean enthusiasts, is introducing a brand-new Live tab, showing public posts and dive logs in real-time!

With tens of thousands of divers sharing their diving adventures on Deepblu every day, it should come as no surprise that Live is indeed alive with exciting diving content from all over the globe.

Deepblu already offered a Following tab, where divers could choose to follow other interesting diver profiles and build a source of inspiration on their following page.

The new Live tab, with its constant stream of fresh underwater news, will serve as a door to this diving world and help divers follow interesting profiles and content while on a surface interval or in preparation of a dive trip of their own.

Diver, Show Yourself Giveaway

Every diver is different, and so is every diver's profile. Underwater photographers, Marine life enthusiasts, dive professionals and those searching underwater adventure alike have showed their best sides with a personalized Deepblu diver profile where they showcase their underwater skills and experiences.

The diver profile has now received a further facelift by allowing divers to upload all their certifications and get them verified by Deepblu.

Deepblu is encouraging users to leverage these new features to stand out by giving away 10 of its award-winning COSMIQ+ Dive Computers and purchase vouchers to the verified users who acquire the highest number of verified followed and following connections by May 1st, 2017.
